

Reproducing a time when the Ryukyu King entertained guests from various foreign countries.

"Shurijo Castle" was once home to the Ryukyu Kingdom and a center of politics. Various national events of Ryukyu Kingdom and entertainment as part of foreign diplomacy were held in the "Una" (the Garden), a plaza in front of the "Seiden" (State Hall) at the center of the castle grounds. In our Theme Party Series, the venue will be decorated like the "Una (the Garden)" and a variety of Okinawa delicacies beginning with "Tundabun", a dish of appetizers from the Ryukyu Kingdom, and "Awamori" (distilled alcoholic beverage known for being the first distilled alcoholic drink in Japan) will be provided. In the background of the Seiden (State Hall) of Shurijo Castle, you will enjoy "Uzagaku", the traditional chamber music of the Ryukyu Kingdom, Ryukyu dance with its colorful costumes, and classical performances such as the energetic lion dance, Bojutsu (Art of Fighting with a Staff and Stick), and the Eiser dance. This party setup is suitable for all main banquet halls of major hotels in Okinawa.
